Disaster Unemployment Assistance benefits now available for those affected by fires in Butte, Ventura and Los Angeles counties

SACRAMENTO – Federal Disaster Unemployment Assistance (DUA) benefits are now available for workers, business owners and self-employed individuals who lost their jobs or businesses, or had their work hours substantially reduced as a result of the Camp Fire in Butte County, Hill Fire in Ventura County and Woolsey Fire in Ventura and Los Angeles counties. President Trump’s federal disaster declaration on November 12 provides DUA benefits for people who are affected by the fires, but who do not qualify for regular state unemployment insurance benefits.

DUA provides temporary unemployment benefits to people whose jobs or work hour losses, or loss of businesses are a direct result of a disaster. Affected individuals are encouraged to apply for DUA through the California Employment Development Department (EDD), which will first check to see if applicants can qualify for state unemployment benefits. The deadline for filing claims is December 14, 2018.

“These major fires have claimed lives, destroyed property and infrastructure, and caused unemployment and job losses,” said EDD Director Patrick W. Henning. “We encourage all of those impacted by this disaster to apply for Disaster Unemployment Assistance to help recover some of their lost income during this difficult time.”

DUA applies to losses beginning the week of November 11, 2018, and individuals can receive up to $450 a week in benefits for a maximum period of 26 weeks. These unemployment assistance benefits are offered to victims of a disaster and are available to individuals who meet any of the following criteria:

- Worked or were self-employed, or were scheduled to begin work or self-employment, in the disaster area.
- Cannot reach work because of the disaster or can no longer work or perform services because of physical damage or destruction to the place of employment as a direct result of the disaster.
- Can establish that the work or self-employment they can no longer perform was their primary source of income.

- Cannot perform work or self-employment because of an injury as a direct result of the disaster.
- Became the head of their households because of a death caused by the disaster.
- Have applied for and used all regular unemployment benefits from any state, or do not qualify for regular unemployment benefits and remain unemployed as a direct result of the disaster.

To receive DUA benefits, all required documentation must be submitted within 21 days from the day the DUA application is filed. Required documentation includes a Social Security number and a copy of the most recent federal income tax form or check stubs, or documentation to support that the individuals were working or self-employed when the disaster occurred. Documentation for the self-employed can be obtained from banks or government entities, or affidavits from individuals having knowledge of their business.

The fastest and easiest way for new claimants to apply for DUA is to use EDD's UI Online application, which is available in both English and Spanish.
