About California Paid Family Leave

For many working Californians, finding time to be with a loved one when they need it most can be difficult. California's Paid Family Leave program was created for those moments that matter. Benefits are available to care for a seriously ill family member, to bond with a new child, or to participate in a qualifying military event.

Fast Facts About California Paid Family Leave

- Provides up to eight weeks of partial wage replacement benefits to bond with a new child (either by birth, adoption, or foster care placement), to care for a seriously ill family member (child, parent, parent-in-law, grandparent, grandchild, sibling, spouse, or registered domestic partner), or to participate in a qualifying event resulting from a family member's (spouse, registered domestic partner, parent, or child) military deployment to a foreign country.
- Doesn't have to be taken all at once.
- Provides approximately 60 to 70 percent of your salary during your leave.
- Funded through your State Disability Insurance tax withholding, so you are most likely eligible if you've paid into State Disability Insurance (noted as "CASDI" on paystubs) or a qualifying voluntary plan in the past 5 to 18 months.
- To bond with a new child, leave can be taken anytime within the first 12 months of a child entering your family.
- Citizenship and immigration status do not affect eligibility.

Do I Qualify For California Paid Family Leave?
To qualify for Paid Family Leave benefits, you must meet the following requirements:

• Need to take time off from work to care for a seriously ill family member, to bond with a new child, or to participate in a qualifying military event.

• Be covered by State Disability Insurance (or a voluntary plan in lieu of State Disability Insurance).

• Have earned at least $300 in the past 5 to 18 months.

• Submit your claim no later than 41 days after you begin your family leave. Do not file before your first day of leave.

If required by your employer, you must use up to two weeks of unused vacation leave or paid time off. Check with your human resources department to confirm your employer’s requirements.

How Are Benefit Amounts Calculated?
California Paid Family Leave provides approximately 60 to 70 percent of your weekly salary.

The benefit amount is calculated from your highest quarterly earnings over the past 5 to 18 months, before the start of your claim. The Employment Development Department (EDD) has an online calculator that can help you estimate your weekly benefit amount. Visit the Disability Insurance and Paid Family Leave Calculator (edd.ca.gov/PFL_Calculator) to estimate your benefit.

If you are found eligible to receive benefits, you have an option on how you receive your benefit payments: by the EDD Debit Card through Bank of America or by check, mailed from the EDD.

How Do I Apply For Benefits?
Apply for Paid Family Leave benefits by visiting SDI Online (edd.ca.gov/SDI_Online).

You may also apply using a paper form. Visit EDD Forms and Publications (edd.ca.gov/Forms) to request a Claim for Paid Family Leave (PFL) Benefits (DE 2501F) form.

For caregiving claims, you must provide medical certification showing that the care recipient has a serious health condition and requires your care. This needs to be completed by the care recipient’s physician/practitioner. Information about the care recipient and their signature are also required.

For bonding claims, you must provide documentation showing proof of relationship between you and the child (e.g., a copy of the child’s birth certificate, adoptive placement agreement, or foster care placement record).

If you are currently receiving pregnancy-related Disability Insurance benefits, it is not necessary to request a Paid Family Leave claim form. The form to file for bonding will be sent through your SDI Online account or by mail when your pregnancy-related disability claim ends.

For military assist claims, you must provide supporting military documentation showing proof of relationship between you and the child (e.g., proof of covered active duty or call to covered active duty and documentation of the qualifying event).

If you are covered by a voluntary plan, contact your employer for information about your coverage and instructions on how to apply for benefits.

If your claim is denied, you have the right to:

• Know the reason for denial.
• Appeal decisions about your eligibility for benefits. Visit Appeals (edd.ca.gov/Disability/Appeals.htm) for information.

All claim information is confidential except for purposes allowed by law.

Does Paid Family Leave Provide Job Protection?
California Paid Family Leave does not provide job protection or a right to return to work.

However, job protection may be provided under other laws such as the federal Family and Medical Leave Act, the California Family Rights Act, or the New Parent Leave Act (if you qualify).

Notify your employer of your plan to take leave and the reason for taking leave according to your company’s policy.
