1. PFL is a special type of leave that allows employees to take time off to care for a new family member or to care for their own health. PFL is available to all eligible employees, regardless of gender or marital status. To be eligible, employees must have worked for their employer for at least 12 months and have earned at least 1,250 hours in the previous 12 months. Employees are entitled to up to 20 weeks of PFL per covered employment year, with a maximum of 52 weeks of PFL over a 5-year period. PFL can be used for a variety of reasons, including the birth or adoption of a child, the placement of a child for adoption, the diagnosis of a serious health condition, or the care of a family member who is a dependent of the employee.

2. PFL is available to all eligible employees, regardless of gender or marital status. To be eligible, employees must have worked for their employer for at least 12 months and have earned at least 1,250 hours in the previous 12 months. Employees are entitled to up to 20 weeks of PFL per covered employment year, with a maximum of 52 weeks of PFL over a 5-year period. PFL can be used for a variety of reasons, including the birth or adoption of a child, the placement of a child for adoption, the diagnosis of a serious health condition, or the care of a family member who is a dependent of the employee.

3. PFL is available to all eligible employees, regardless of gender or marital status. To be eligible, employees must have worked for their employer for at least 12 months and have earned at least 1,250 hours in the previous 12 months. Employees are entitled to up to 20 weeks of PFL per covered employment year, with a maximum of 52 weeks of PFL over a 5-year period. PFL can be used for a variety of reasons, including the birth or adoption of a child, the placement of a child for adoption, the diagnosis of a serious health condition, or the care of a family member who is a dependent of the employee.

4. PFL is available to all eligible employees, regardless of gender or marital status. To be eligible, employees must have worked for their employer for at least 12 months and have earned at least 1,250 hours in the previous 12 months. Employees are entitled to up to 20 weeks of PFL per covered employment year, with a maximum of 52 weeks of PFL over a 5-year period. PFL can be used for a variety of reasons, including the birth or adoption of a child, the placement of a child for adoption, the diagnosis of a serious health condition, or the care of a family member who is a dependent of the employee.

5. PFL is available to all eligible employees, regardless of gender or marital status. To be eligible, employees must have worked for their employer for at least 12 months and have earned at least 1,250 hours in the previous 12 months. Employees are entitled to up to 20 weeks of PFL per covered employment year, with a maximum of 52 weeks of PFL over a 5-year period. PFL can be used for a variety of reasons, including the birth or adoption of a child, the placement of a child for adoption, the diagnosis of a serious health condition, or the care of a family member who is a dependent of the employee.

Disability Insurance and PFL Calculator (edd.ca.gov/PFL_Calculator)

California Paid Family Leave moments matter.

CaliforniaPaidFamilyLeave.com

EDD is the California Employment Development Department. If you need help with your claim or have questions, you can reach EDD at 1-866-490-8879 (TTY).